LATEST WAR NEWS.

Widdin Bombarded—Bulgarians Occupy Tsaribrod—Bulgarian Success—Servians in Full Retreat.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—A dispatch from Belgrade to the Daily Telegraph says: "The Servians have evacuated all the positions heretofore occupied by them. Dragoman, Brsanik, Perlik and Tzvar ses lie in the hands of the Bulgarians. The Servians are still retiring. It is stated that the Bulgarian cavalry have occupied Tsaribrod."

A dispatch from Vienna to the Times says that England and Russia have induced the Porte to dispatch a note to Servia to-morrow commanding King Milan to stop the war.

The Servian war reports are unreliable. All correspondents are excluded from the Servian lines, except two Austrian correspondents, whose dispatches are censored.

A telegram from Belle says the Servians bombarded Widdin and that the city is on fire.

The bombardment of Widdin continued for an hour without any decisive result. The Bulgarians replied vigorously to the Servian fire.

Official reports say that King Milan has brought his main force into operation with the Drina and Morava divisions, and that a decisive attack on Slivnitza is imminent. It is also stated that if King Milan is victorious he will agree to an armistice so as to allow a conference of the powers.

Prince Alexander has sent a dispatch to his father saying, "We fought all Sunday and spent the night on Dragomas Heights, which we carried by storm. The fighting continues to-day in the direction of Tsaribrod."

Prince Alexander has requested that the Porte postpone sending a commissioner to Eastern Roumelia until the termination of the war. He says that as a soldier he can only propose an armistice when within Servian territory.

A dispatch to the Standard from Belgrade, opposite Slivnitza, dated 1 o'clock Monday morning, states that King Milan and Premier Garchini had arrived at headquarters. The Servian army was drawn up facing the enemy and was preparing for a final attempt to break through and force its way to Sofia.

King Milan was forced to retreat by the failure of the commissariat service. He will remain on duty at the frontier until the arrival of General Leopasin's division and the reserves. Wounded soldiers have been arriving continually since Sunday morning. Every available vehicle is utilized for transportation purposes.

A Belgrade dispatch dated Monday evening says that yesterday's dispatch from Pirot makes no mention of the Bulgarians having Caribrod.

So far as can be judged from the conflicting telegrams the situation at the seat of war is as follows: Prince Alexander has held at bay the Morava and Shumla divisions, which were advancing via Radomir, and prevented them from joining the Drina and Danuba divisions. He has driven the latter back from Dragoman. The Morava and Shumla divisions still hold their positions, and are probably commanded by King Milan. The people of Belgrade are anxious as to how the Servians will escape defeat. The Servian reverses are attributed to the blunders made by the favorites of King Milan, who are in command.

THE FIERCE CONTEST AT BIRMINGHAM.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The greatest personal interest of the whole electoral field centers in the contest at Birmingham between John Bright and Lord Randolph Churchill, which will be settled to-morrow. The Duchess of Marlborough and Lady Churchill, who is a daughter of Leonard Jerome, of New York, at the head of 300 noble dames, have been making a house to house canvass on behalf of Lord Randolph Churchill. Each lady is responsible for a certain district and returns the number of promised votes to the Central Ladies' Committee. The Duchess and Lady Churchill, during their progress through the streets, were greeted by cheers from the Radicals. Lady Churchill says she visited the poorest houses in Birmingham and has encountered the roughest people, and, with one exception, has been received with the greatest courtesy and politeness. She addressed the workmen in the principal factories. Lord Randolph is also a candidate for Paddington, where he is certain to be successful. Bright, in his speeches, refers humorously to the "primrose campaign."

AN ENGLISH VICTORY.

RANGOON, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from Mhola states that severe fighting took place to-day in the jungle, continuing until the center post of the Burmese was captured, when they fled in all directions.

Four deputy commissioners and four assistants have been appointed for Burmah. This is tantamount to annexation.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from Cooktown, Queensland, says that the geographical expedition, which was reported to have been massacred in New Guinea, has arrived at Cooktown. All the members are well.

Colonel Macpherson has been appointed to command the Madras army.

FROM COAL HARBOR TO HONGKONG.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Private, but official advices from London, state that the British government invites tenders for a fortnightly steamship service from Coal Harbor, B. C., to Hongkong, calling at Yokohama, for a period not exceeding seven years. This is to be run alternately with steamer lines via Brindisi and Suez, and is regarded as very important in the event of a blockade of the entire eastern coast. It is expected that through mails will go over the Canadian Pacific via Quebec and Montreal.

VANCOUVER.

On Coal Harbor, in Treasurer of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Personal inspection and efforts of Coal Harbor lands, made on application, contracts for clearing land negotiated and superintended. Large lists of most eligible properties and plans of townsite on application. Parties living at a distance buying through us will have the advantage of our personal inspection and report. Intending investors should come to Vancouver, when we will take pleasure in driving them over the principal roads and showing them over the townsite. We have established a free reading room for use of strangers, and shall be glad if all such will make use of same on arriving here. Correspondence solicited.

THE LATE REBEL CHIEF.

Brief Sketch of the Ancestry and Career of the Late Louis Riel.

The deceased was of Irish descent. His paternal ancestor came to Canada at the end of the seventeenth century. He was named John Baptist, and was born in the parish of St. Peter, city of Limerick, the home of his parents, John Baptist Reel, or Riel, and Louisa Fountain. In 1788 this Jean Baptiste Riel married at La Dupas, diocese of Montreal, Louise Cotta, aged 20, daughter of Francois Cotta, and Jeanne Verdon. Of this marriage were born six boys, the eldest of whom, Jean Baptiste, married Louise Fregier. All these children were surnamed "L' Irlande," and in the deeds it ran, "Jean Baptiste Riel d' L' Irlande," and this passed to their descendants. The elder Jean Baptiste baptized in 1766, at La Dupas, was the grandfather of Jean Baptiste, who in 1803 left the parish of Berthier to settle in the Northwest. He married a half-breed woman, and in 1817 had a son baptized under the name of Louis at Re-a-la Cross. Louis married Julie de Lagemodiere, who became the mother of the subject of this sketch, Louis Riel was born at St. Boniface in 1847. At eight years of age he began attending school at the old St. Boniface College. He was noted at school for his charitable disposition. At the age of 11 he left school at St. Boniface and came to Montreal. He finished his education at the Jesuit College and returned home in 1866. For a short time he clerked in a store at St. Vital. In November, 1868 he returned to Manitoba and became a farmer at St. Vital. He became the ### LEADER OF THE RED RIVER REBELLION of 1869-70.

He opposed the advance of Hon. Wm. Macdonnell, who had been appointed Lieutenant-Governor, and forced him to retreat across the border to Pembina. He seized Fort Garry, captured and imprisoned a large number of Canadians, and on Dec. 8, 1869, formed a Provisional government. On March 4, 1870, Thomas Scott, an Orangeman, was cruelly put to death by Riel, after a mock trial. On March 9 Riel and his associates were promised by Archbishop Tache, acting in the name of the Canadian government, full amnesty for every breach of the law of which they had been guilty. On Oct. 4, 1871, at a meeting held at St. Vital, Riel urged his friends to aid the government against the Fenians. He subsequently offered his services to Lieutenant-Governor Archibald, and was publicly thanked by the Lieutenant-Governor for his timely aid. He and Lepine were afterward paid $1600 each by order of Sir John Macdonald to leave the country. They left for the United States under escort in February, 1872. In September of the same year Riel declined a nomination for the House of Commons for Provencher in favor of Sir George Cartier, Sir John's colleague, who was elected. In October, 1873, Riel was returned for Provencher by acclamation, and again in January, 1874. He made his way to Ottawa, and signed the roll in the clerk's room in the House of Commons, but was not allowed to take his seat. On April 16, 1874, he was expelled from the House, but was again elected for Provencher in the September following. On October 15 of the year a warrant of outlawry was issued against him by the Court of the Queen's Bench of Manitoba. On Feb. 12, 1875, he was on condition of five years' banishment. He spent several months of 1877 in Beauport Asylum, Quebec. In 1878 he engaged in farming at St. Joe. Mina. In 1883 he removed to the Sun River settlement in Montana, and secured a situation as teacher in an industrial school. In 1881 he married Marguerite Bellimoure, a daughter of Jean Baptiste Bellimoure, of Fort Ellice. On June 4, 1884, he was invited by James Isbister, Gabriel Dumont, Moise Ouillette, and Michael Dumas, who had traveled 1,400 miles to urge him to return to the Northwest and aid the half-breeds of the Saskatchewan in their efforts to induce the Dominion government to consider their claims. He acceded to their request, returned to the Saskatchewan country, and addressed a series of meetings in support of the demands of the half-breeds. In March last he headed a second rebellion, and on the 20th of that month the battle of Duck Lake was fought. On April 24th the battle of Fish Creek was fought. On May 9th to 11th the rebel forces was hopelessly defeated, and on May 15th Riel surrendered himself a prisoner to General Middleton. On May 23rd he was lodged in gaol at Regina. His trial was begun before Stipendiary Magistrate Richardson and a jury of six on June 20th. It was continued on July 21st and then adjourned for a week. The trial was resumed on July 28th, and on July 31st he was found guilty with a recommendation to mercy. He was sentenced to be hanged on Sept. 18th, was respited to Oct. 16th, then to Nov. 10th, and finally to Nov. 16th, on which date he suffered the death penalty.

GRANTED AN AMNESTY

KAMLOOPS TO GRANITE CREEK.

A correspondent, Donald Walker, writing to the Inland Sentinel, describes the route from Kamloops to the Similkameen river, and urges the construction of a trail to Granite Creek from that town, as being far preferable to the Hope route, shorter and with fewer heavy grades for transportation purposes, which would have the effect of reducing the cost of supplies to miners. He concludes his letter by giving the following particulars relating to the mines. As far as I have seen, the claims appear to be paying fair wages, say from $10 and upwards; one claim—the Captain claim—at the town of Granite Creek, three men shovelling 24 hours, pays from $350 to $500 a day. You can tell any one that more than one must pull off his coat, rustle for himself, for I think, for one, there are many prizes yet which will pay as well as the Captain—and some a good deal better. Lots of claims to be had in the Similkameen country.

ANOTHER COAL DISCOVERY.

While a rock cutting was being made on the line of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway, at a point on the Kokesilla river, in Cowichan district, a good seam of coal four feet in thickness was exposed, but for some reason, not explained by our informant, it was covered up.

Fine Oysters.

A large bed of oysters has just been discovered by some fishermen on the Island, the bivalves being the largest and most delicious yes seen here. They are shipped direct to Joe Levy, of the Arcade, on Government street, where they will be supplied to lovers of this favorite dish.

THE AUTUMN ASSIZES.

(Before Hon. Mr. Justice Gray.)

TUESDAY, Nov. 24.

THE YORKE CASE.

The cross examination of Mr. Josephine Pettingill was concluded and the evidence of J. W. McAlley and Benjamin Pettingill was taken.—The facts brought out were essentially the same as those adduced at the police court, during the investigation a few weeks ago. The cross-examination of the last named witness was going on when the court rose.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 25.

Court re-assembled at 10 a. m. The case of Frank M. Yorke was resumed.

B. Pettingill re-called and cross-examined by Mr. T. Davie:—My wife is 29 her next year; at the time of assault, McDonald was partner with McAlley, the former is my cousin. On the same day I sent a letter to the Superintendent of Police, informing him that Yorke had a revolver, and threatened to report him if he did not arrest him. Knew he had been carrying a revolver for two months; understood he carried it for protection; I knew Yorke was a connection of yours (Mr. T. Davie); that was why I went to you; I went without being sent for; I wanted to get Yorke to leave the country; you asked me to delay the prosecution. (A printed notice of Mr. Pettingill in reference to statements by Mr. Davie in Police Court was read.) That notice was not written to prejudice the case; I did not want you to give me counsel to settle the case; I had McAlley and McDonald to see me; I did not want to become a party to settle the case; I had McAlley and McDonald to see me; I did not want you to give me counsel

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The Canadian Pacific is said to be preparing to make a low through rate on passenger and freight business, and intends to put on a line of steamers from the Pacific terminus to San Francisco.

At last a Cunard steamship has been lost at sea. The Sidon, on a voyage from Liverpool to Constantinople, struck on a rock off Malpica Oct. 27th, and was totally wrecked. Four persons were lost.

The suit brought by Mr. Crawford against Sir Charles Dilke comes on for trial in December. It is rumored that the French lady previously referred to as likely to be an interesting figure on the witness stand will not appear.

The ex-Empress Eugenie has asked the Pope for advice in regard to her line of conduct in French politics. The Pope is much perplexed over the matter. Many Bonapartists would join the Royalists on Papal advice to do so.

The Canadian Pacific is said to have fully decided upon building a branch to Fort Burton, to secure a whack at north Montana's big cattle business. Preliminary surveys are to be made this fall, and the branch built next year. At least that is what those most interested say.

The Legislative Assembly of Victoria has passed a motion to the effect that, except in some unforseen national emergency, no supplies required by the Victoria Government should be obtained "for the present" elsewhere than in the colony, unless subjected to a lower duty than 20 per cent., and that marine engines (now subjected to a 25 per cent. duty) and other dutiable portions of vessels should not be allowed to be imported in pieces and fitted into vessels free of duty.

Voting on the Scott Act at St. Catharines takes place on November 19th, and in the united counties of Prescott and Russell on November 26th. Should the act be adopted in the last named place, every county in Ontario east of Toronto, except Hastings and Prince Edward, will be under the dominion of the Scott Act—after the 1st of May next. The act will have been voted on in every constituency in Ontario within the past two years except Toronto, Hamilton, London, Ottawa, Grey, Essex, Haldimand, Lincoln, Welland, Wentworth, York and Algoma.

In Science of the 16th inst., we find a long and valuable article on the difficulty between England and Burmah, in which are indicated its possible results from a commercial point of view. From it we learn that the province of Yunnan in southern China is said to produce some of the best tea, the Puerh tea, so called from the town which is its principal market. As yet it has been impossible to open an extensive trade with this region, as the only navigable river by which the country can be reached, the Irrawaddy, passes through the Burman domains, which have been for years in a constant state of turmoil.

Prince Alexander, of Bulgaria's household is very limited in number. There are four servants, all of the sterner sex—Germans—whom the Prince brought with him from his old home in Hesse, besides a hall porter and the Resto Baja, who is a martial looking Montenegrin, with a smartly turned up moustache. The aides-de-camp are former comrades of his Highness, the most prominent among them being Baron Conta, who was Captain of the cavalry in the Russian garde-du-corps in which the Prince served as Lieutenant. A friend of his boyhood, Hans Meyer, occupies the position of private secretary to the Prince.

The Chinese Ambassador in New York states that the Chinese government has not granted and will not grant any concessions for making railroads in China. Baron de Lonay is said to be merely trying to obtain promises of support from American financiers, with which he will go to China and attempt to secure railroad concessions. "I have authority to state," says the minister, "that the Chinese have no intention of constructing railroads in their country until they have put it in a thorough state of defense. Then they will construct them themselves. Their settled policy now is against all concessions to foreign financiers for public works."

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC.

The latest advices from Montreal intimate that the smallpox epidemic still marches onwards. On the 19th inst. twenty-six deaths were reported in that city. Notwithstanding the vigilance exercised by the Ontario Board of Health, we find two deaths reported from Toronto, while the presence of the disease is reported in many sections of that province. The contagion is said to have been transmitted to the Northwest through packages of goods, while even the newspapers are blamed as a channel for its transmission. For the month of October the deaths recorded from smallpox were 1630; the percentage against the French Canadians being fearfully heavy, reported to be 1599 as against 31 English speaking people. This discrepancy is attributed to the antipathy with which French Canadians regard vaccination and not to any religious prejudice, for it is ascertained that the Irish Catholics, amongst whom vaccination became general escaped equally safe with their protestant fellow citizens. Since its first appearance in Montreal in the form of an epidemic it is said over 4000 have fallen victims to the loathsome disease. Notwithstanding a determined feeling of hostility to the enforcement of the sanitary laws by a considerable portion of the people, the Mayor has decided to insist on complete isolation and removal to the pest hospitals of every known case. This is the only way to checkmate and stamp out the disease. It is now believed that if strict sanitary laws are enforced and compulsory vaccination becomes general the epidemic will soon be under control.

The action of the Ontario government is to be commended in insisting upon every one entering that province from Montreal, either producing proof of vaccination or being vaccinated on the spot. Similar action has been adopted by the United States authorities on the frontier towns. It is further stated that the Dominion Government intends to move in the matter.

Would it not be a wise move on the part of the authorities here to take up the subject. Quite a number in the city have recently been vaccinated. This is a step in the right direction and it should become general. So far Victoria has escaped the severe scourges that have visited many seaport towns. To be fore warned is to be fore armed.

CHURCH AND STATE.

Not only is the Established Church in England and Scotland thrown into the seething pot of a general election, in defence of the Conservative government; but if some of the Whig peers are to have their way the House of Lords will be thrown in also in defence of the Church. Nothing but this can result if the appeal of the Whig peers to their "fellow countrymen" to "refuse their votes to every candidate for a seat in Parliament who declines to pledge himself to resist the projects of the Liberationists" is to be used for the purpose of breaking up the Liberal party. It is instructive to note to what an extent the Whig peers who issue this appeal are themselves keenly interested as property owners in the institution they are calling upon persons of all varieties of political opinion to discard their political convictions in order to defend and uphold. The following statement shows the extent of patronage administrated by some of the peers who have signed Lord Gray's circular: The Duke of Bedford, 32 livings; Earl Fitzwilliam, 26 livings; the Duke of Westminster, 8 livings; Earl Fortescue, 6 livings; Lord Crewe, 6 livings; the Duke of Somerset, 2; Lord de Tabley, 2; Earl of Devon, 6; Earl Ducie, 3; Lord Hollen[illegible] 1. These lords have held among them the gift of ninety-nine livings. They can appoint to those livings clergymen after their own heart—Ritualistic, Broad Church or Low, as they list—without the slightest reference to the wishes of the parishioners. It is easy to see how their privileges would be touched by disestablishment. Lord Grey himself does not appear to have any stake in the Church in the way of patronage. But his family have shown their devotion to the institution in other ways. Two of his brothers entered the ministry quite early in life. Both were successful in attaining, if not high, yet highly-paid places in that field. The Hon. and Rev. John Grey, before he was thirty, was appointed rector of Morpeth by the Earl of Carlisle at a salary of £1,200 a year. His elder brother, the Hon. and Rev. Richard, did not obtain promotion so early in life, but at 35 the then Bishop of Durham gave him the rectory of Houghton-le-Spring, which is worth £2,000 a year. It would be unnatural if the head of the family of Grey did not think well of an institution which has proved so handy for his relations.

Oliver Dalrymple, the bonanza farmer of Dakota, thinks the great fall movement of wheat is about over, and that receipts at terminal points will be small. Owing to home requirements for millers and for seed, Mr. Dalrymple looks for the periods of a material advance in prices—the first having already taken place in autumn, the second to show up early in the winter, and the third late in the spring.

The increased space granted to Canada at the Colonial Exhibition amounts to six thousand five hundred feet inside the building and almost as much in the gardens for outside exhibits. It is believed that this addition makes the Canadian court the largest granted to any of the colonies, not excepting the Indian court, which was generally expected to make the largest show.

THE SERVIAN QUESTION.

In a recent issue the London Times asserts that the Servian question thus far has been presented only in its official form and discussed within the limits of official definitions. The theory of the Servian attitude as stated by the government is logical, and the action taken is the sequence of what it has been all along difficult to credit—adherence to the dry principle of treaty relations and the mathematical idea of equilibrium. Yet who will say that these considerations have had power to inspire the popular mind with an enthusiasm at once so passionate and so unanimous as that actually witnessed? The wrongs wrought by the Bulgarians, though very vexatious, were not of that outrageous sort which compels national indignation and revenge. Indeed, there is a singular absence of vindictive feeling towards the Bulgar coexistent with a unanimous conviction that he must be punished. It is thus evident that the soul of Servia does not speak in the ministerial formula, and that it must be sought elsewhere. Nish affords no field for such research; but I found in Belgrade the matter requisite for arriving at the following analysis: (1) Although the Servian Government takes its formal stand and bases its action upon the Treaty of Berlin, the quarrel between Servia and Bulgaria, morally considered, so far as regards Servian real inwards feeling, means not an invasion of Bulgaria, but redress of those wrongs of San Stefano which the Treaty of Berlin left unrepaired. (2) Bulgaria, as shaped at Berlin, is not wholly Bulgarian. Ethnographically, it is Bulgaria plus Eastern Servia. (3) At heart the Serbs not only have no repugnance to the union of Northern and Southern Bulgaria, but desire its consummation, on condition of effecting their own union with Eastern Servia, comprised in the sandjaks of Widdin and Sofia. 4. The reason why Servia insists at this moment on having Eastern Servia is, that it is a favorable one, inasmuch as Bulgaria can better afford to lose this district in question now that Roumelia gives such ample compensation, Roumelia being a far richer acquisition in every way than the two sandjacks. 5. The reason why the Serbs prefer obtaining Widdin and Sofia to any corresponding extension south or west is, that the danger of denationalization is much greater in Widdin and Sofia than in Bosnia or Old Servia. Related elements unite easily; so that, while there would be no risk of the Serbs of Old Servia being metamorphosed into Turks, or those of Bosnia into Germans, the Serbs of the two sandjaks would probably blend with their Slav brethren, and become Bulgarized. In support of this view, it is shown how the descendants of some 200,000 Austrian Serbs, who in the reign of Maria Theresa emigrated in a body to Russia, have all been completely Russianized, uniting with their brother Slavs, while those who have remained in Austria retain strong national sentiments, and a good Servian dialect. 6. The native called Bulgaria is akin to the Serb. Practically one people, they were in fact one in heart and soul before Russia, to advance her own interests, sowed discord between the brothers at San Stefano. When Russia ceases to encourage the Bulgars on the San Stefano course there will be a natural union between Bulgar and Serb, based on ethnographic attraction; but while Russia works Bulgaria to prepare her own way to Constantinople, no Balkan Confederation is possible, nor any other form of peaceful and progressive existence. Servia makes war on Bulgaria to protest against this unnatural course of things and to make something secure for the future. 7. War between Servia and Bulgaria would be more fratricidal than an Anglo-American war, or than that between Prussian Hohenzollerns and German Hapsburgs. Peace and union may follow a Serbo-Bulgarian war, as it has followed in previous similar cases.

"Baxter's Barley-Bree"

THIS well known and justly celebrated Scotch Whisky is never sent out from the Proprietor's Bonded Warehouse till it has attained to an age of at least seven years. It is generally, however, considerably older than this before it actually reaches the consumer.

The following Certificate of Purity, under the Act of Parliament of 1879, is a recent Report upon it:—

LABORATORY OF PUBLIC ANALYSIS,
DUNDEE, 20th April, 1885.

"I have examined a sample of 'R. Baxter's Barley-Bree' Scotch Whisky, and I hereby certify that it possesses all the properties of a First Class Scotch Whisky. It has a remarkably pleasant aroma, and is perfectly free from all deleterious matter. It is of excellent quality. It is certainly [illegible] of excellent quality. It is certainly [illegible]

(Signed) R. H. RICHARDSON.

Follow of the Faculty of Physicians & Surgeons, Glasgow, Dr. to the Queen of Perth, and the Royals of Dundee, Forfar, Montrose, and Aylesbury.

The Public should insist upon getting this Whisky, and should refuse no other. They will find it the best and purest extant.

AT DAWN.

[Richard Hinton in New Orleans Times-Democrat.]

A town where all the churches' spires
Are circled by white crowns of mist;
And cloud - whose hue of amethyst
Awaits the sun's transcending fires.

A river with sad, sullen lips
That toll the air with hollow wail;
While faint across the pale skies trail
The cob-web traps of swaying ships.

The hazy fog, still dark with night,
Broke off, a slow - subsiding flood,
Just ever heard the sea gulls shrill
The air with diamond points of light.

The cliffs move by as noiselessly
As passing shadows of a cloud;
The boatman's call is not more loud
Than echoes of a melody.

The sea-gulls startled, wheel and cry
As thro' the waves they catch a gleam
Of some white shape borne down the stream,
With sightless eyes turned toward the sky.

Ox-Horn Chairs.

[San Francisco Chronicle.]

"You have no idea what a demand there is for this style of chairs," said a well-known furniture dealer to a reporter, as he proudly pointed at a beautiful specimen, made entirely of horns and exquisitely finished with silk plush and fringe. "No, it is not exactly a new idea," continued the furniture man, "for my firm has been turning them out for nearly a year. This style of horn chairs, finished with silk plush, easily sells for $60, while those finished with leather bring $75."

"How are they manufactured?"

"Well, you see, there are twenty-two horns used in this seat which we are examining. Of course a smaller number of horns can be used in some styles only eighteen are required, but these do not have as neat an appearance and are much cheaper. The mode of manufacture is quite simple. The horns after being thoroughly cleansed, steamed, and scraped to the proper thickness, are filled or stuffed with sawdust and glue. After being thoroughly dried and polished the horns are fastened into the proper position with brass rivets and glue. Then follows the upholstering operation, which is very simple, but upon the whole the chairs thus made may be considered very artistic."

"And the demand—is there much call for this style of furniture?"

"Yes, indeed. There are many chairs now in use in several of the Nob-hill residences. We have shipped them to France, the Pacific Islands, and many to the eastern and northern states. Orders are constantly coming in, and I may safely say the demand is increasing."

Copper-Greened Pickles.

[New York Letter.]

Five of the wholesale pickle-dealers of Brooklyn, N. Y., admit that they use copper for the purpose of imparting a fresh and inviting appearance to their commodities, and one of them describes the process by which the fict tious coloring is imparted as follows: The pickles are placed in a vat and subjected to a steam heat of 160 to 210 degrees shrenheit. In the vat a quantity of alum and copper plates are added and the innocent cucumber or onion is subjected to contact with these harmless ingredients for a term of from three to nine hours. The pickles are then carefully washed, and are ready for the palates of the public.

One dealer said he discountenanced the use of copper plates and said he only used crystal of blue vitriol, a most appetizing ad unct. This highly agreeable method of "greening" the pickles and poisoning the public will not be further permitted by the health o ficers. He prefers his pickles straight.

Designs for Carpets.

[Robert W. Edis in Art Journal.]

In the school of designs, in South Kensington, there are several quotations which are regarded as axiomatic, and they unequivocally direct the efforts of the pupils. The following is the rule upon carpet design:

1. The surface of a carpet, serving as a ground to support all objects, should be quiet and negative, without strong contrast of either form or colors.

2. The leading forms should be so disposed as to distribute the pattern over the whole floor, not pronouncing either in the direction of breadth or length, all "up and down" treatments being erroneous.

The decorative forms should be flat, without shadow or relief, whether derived from ornament or direct from flowers or foliage.

In color the general ground should be negative, low in tone, and inclining to the tertiary hues.

Capabilities of Eggs.

[Cassell's Family Magazine.]

There is nothing better than an egg; it is the unit of perfection. Simply boiled or roasted it is entirely good but, when cooked by madame, it takes as many forms as protoplasm. Like a juggler, she can do anything with eggs. Well beaten, with little or none, she makes delicate cakes, which we take turns in frying, exhausting ourselves in the effort to turn with dexterity, at the right moment, a cake the full size of the pan. Maple sirup is delectable upon these cakes. You may not believe it, but a slice of stale bread, dipped in hot water, buttered and spread with French mustard and cooked with three eggs as an omelet, makes a capital dish. With a box of sardines one can make a meal of it.

The Fascet Flower.

[Chicago Herald.]

The usual belief is that the "passion" flower derived its name because of the resemblance, or fancied resemblance, of the parts of the plant to the instruments of the Savior's "passion" and crucifixion. Thus the three nails through the hands and feet on the cross are represented by the stigmas, five anthers represent the five wounds, the rays of glory or at others say the crown of thorns are represented by the rays of the corona, the ten parts of the perianth represent ten of the apostles (Peter, who denied the Savior, and Judas, his betrayer, being absent). The bands of the persecutors are supposed to be indicated by the finger-like leaves of the plant and the "scourges" in the tendrils.

A Plea for the Toddlers.

[For Kansas City Journal.]

While mamma sits glares-but so coquettishly, many boo-ers go out with shade hat and parasol, looking a child whose head is covered by a fancy night cap that affords no protection to the eyes. If any many day you will watch the drawn up faces of these people whose eyes are unshaded you can get idea of the cruelty you practice on the baby. Toothache complaints of the first harrowing sort—sick headaches among school children. Do you think nursing sugar tortures not always reach, or get weaken the eyes by carelessly exposing them to light?

A surgeon to bring wrinkles on a woman's face is to habitually wear small bonnets and riding-veils. Watch yourselves, ladies, and you will find your faces unconsciously twisted into deep lines and double lines from the eyebrows to the eyes. Put aside fear on the forehead and on yourselves if you want good looks in the family.

Hawaii.

Though the Hawaiian people have been taught to contribute to the missionary funds, they are still superstitious, and still have their gods and goddesses in holy (some very great) trouble.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.

HOW THEY ARE MADE TO DUPLICATE THE ORIGINALS.

"Understanding" of All Shapes and Sizes—Construction of an Artificial Leg—How the Action Is Secured—A Singular Case.

[Boston Globe.]

There is a small room in the rear of a Court street store in which works an old, gray-haired man. Surrounding him on all sides are legs of many shapes and sizes. Some are short and stout, with rather too much calf for strictly classical beauty; others are long and slim, with a deplorable lack of calf, while others vie in shapeliness with the nether limbs of a Greek slave or a Venus de Milo. The old man when visited recently was hard at work, but consented to give the writer a few particulars in regard to his business.

"Now that," he said, pointing to a shapely leg hanging over the fire, "belongs to a Newburyport young lady."

"That," continued the old man, "is what's known as a knee-bearing leg. I made it for her three years ago, when she was about 16 years old. She lost her leg a little below the knee—so short that she couldn't wear a socket-bearing leg, and so she was obliged to have a knee-bearing to walk on the knee. She had grown a little since, and so was obliged to lengthen it out. I cut the leg in two at the calf and put in a piece, dovetailing it and fastening it with glue. I've blamed a child's leg at least four inches before it was given up, when its parents were poor, and couldn't afford a new one.

"Now here," picking up a leg in process of construction, "legs don't weigh as much as you think. Including all the ironwork, that leg wouldn't weigh more than five pounds. I have just made one for a full-grown woman that weighed, everything complete, including the upper socket, exactly three pounds. I made it particularly light on account of her being sickly. I want to show you now where we get the durability. The steel ankle-joints are, you see, set in the wood, and slightly broader at the ankle than further up the leg, which makes them softer dovetailed. The bearing-down strain is borne in part by bent and partly by an endless and very powerful cord—some make it of silk, but I always use linen—extending from the heel of the foot over a bar in the calf of the leg, which is hollow. The cord relieves principally what is called 'the nosing,' where the shin plays into the foot.

"The ankle-joints are, you see, connected by a steel bolt, which makes the leg particularly strong about the ankle, where the most strain comes. The toe joint is located at the same place as in the natural foot, and works with a spring that brings the toe into place after each step. The wood? I use willow altogether, and have never used any other. I have known one used where the leg has been lost below the knee.

"Now this," producing another leg, "is for one lost above the knee. It is the same in every particular as the other, with the addition of a wooden socket to secure the stump. It works at the knee in a very natural manner on a simple bolt, with a spring extending from the thin piece to the lower part of the top socket. This spring throws the foot forward, in walking, the minute the toe leaves the floor.

"You will observe that if the amputation is above the knee the leg must be held in place by suspenders made of stout welt—part elastic and part non-elastic—extending over the shoulder. If with a long stump below the knee, the leather socket, placed above the knee, is usually sufficient.

"If, however, there is but a short stump below the knee a strap is required. Every weak point in a leg is specially guarded in some way or other; and when the steel and woodwork are complete the leg is covered with calfskin, similar to a drumhead. It is put on wet and dries to the leg, very closely, adding a great deal to its strength. Then that is sand-papered down to a surface, and the holes in the calf opened out. They are for ventilation, but I doubt it if they do any good. I always put them in, because a good many are of the notion they are. Then the leg is painted. I use alcoholic paint, made of gum and dry lead. The minute it strikes water it is set, and you can't wash it off with anything except alcohol.

"I'll show you a leg," producing a particularly lifelike one, the foot of which bore a shoe and stocking, "that has been painted seventeen years, and is, you see, in pretty good condition."

"What do you consider your most singular case?"

"That of a little boy that lives near the old reservoir. He was brought to me in his father's arms when he was 16 or 18 months old, and had never walked a step. I didn't dare to touch him, he was so young and tender, and his father took him to Dr. Shaw. The doctor advised him to get a limb right off, so as to prevent hip disease on the other side. That had never occurred to me. The doctor's opinion took all the responsibility away from me, and so I went to work at once, and made a leg for the boy. He learned to walk with it, and walks and runs with it now so well that you'd hardly know he'd lost a leg."

"How long will a leg wear?"

"It is a question often asked me, and a very hard one to answer. I have a customer that has worn a leg for twenty-one years, and I know men who would not wear a leg two years. It is just as it is with everything else. Some take care of them and others slave them out very quickly. The government, you know, allows soldiers a new leg every five years. That looks as if they thought five years was the average, but good legs will, in my opinion, average at least eight years. The price the government sets on 'em is about the lowest, they can be made for, though some manufacturers ask more as much as that."

"How long does it take to make a leg? Well, I'll tell you. In war times I say add if a man made a leg in eight days they were satisfied."

Ballad-Down Vividness.

[Detroit Lodger.]

A boy's description of having a toad gulled was the best example of ballad-down vividness ever given: "Just before it killed me the tooth came out." Nothing in language could express the pain better.

Consumption of Sugar.

[Chicago Herald.]

We eat a good deal more sugar than we did five years ago. In 1880 the annual consumption of sugar per head in this country was 41.3 pounds. In 1885 it was 51.1 pounds. At the same time only one molasses is used. Our total consumption of sweets is fifty-six pounds per head. In England it is sixty seven pounds. We eat more than twice as much of France as we do three as much as Germany, and eight times as much as Russia.

Prisoners may lie a man up, as it were, and the angle does the business, to get something by the fact.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

While the TIMES is always pleased to give publicity to the views of correspondents on any question of interest to the public, provided facts are given, omitted to modify materially the impression we wish it to be understood that we do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by the writers thereof.

Nor can we give room to duplicates of letters that have appeared in our contemporaries either in this city or elsewhere in the province. Correspondents, therefore, will save time and trouble in not writing such for THE TIMES, as they will be rejected.

Our space is valuable, and brevity, as far as practicable, should be observed in writing on any topic, and on ONE SIDE of the sheet only.

—Many people arrive at Vancouver every day. The mission of the majority is to inspect the site, that they may be able to judge for themselves as to what particular spot is likely to be most immediately required for building purposes. —We are in a position to state says the Inland Sentinel, that negotiations between Mr. Cambie and Mr. Marx, relative to making Kamloops a division point of the C. P. R. have been brought to a successful termination. The company agree to build on the flat at the west end of the town, their passenger and freight depot, an engine house with ten stalls, car and workshops on an extensive scale, and cattle corrals and sheds to facilitate the shipment of cattle.

C. P. R. SUPERINTENDENT.

Mr. H. H. Abbott, of Brockville, Ont., Receives the Appointment.

It is reported that Mr. H. H. Abbott, who formed one of the Vice Horne party to this city recently has received the appointment of General Superintendent of the C. P. R. on the Pacific Coast, which will embrace all the territory from the summit of the Rocky Mountains to the seaboard. Mr. Abbott was for many years General Manager of the Brockville and Ottawa railway in Ontario, is a gentleman of considerable experience, both in constructing and operating railways. He will also have charge of the construction of the Burrard Inlet extension, as well as the New Westminster branch, Mr. Cambie being the engineer in charge. Mr. Abbott it is reported has made an offer to all the operators on the line under Mr. Onderdonk to retain their services, but at a considerable reduction in the wages paid by the former, which was on an average $80 per month; the new scale is $50.

It is rumored that Mr. Cambie has asked for tenders for clearing portions of land belonging to the C. P. R. Company along the water frontage on the Inlet, also for ties and pile timbers, and that operations at the terminus will be begun about the New Year.

THE AUSTRALIAN MAILS.

The Alameda and Mariposa Chartered.

The Union line of San Francisco has arranged for the use of the steamers Alameda and Mariposa to carry the Australian mails. This arrangement has been brought about in consequence of the refusal of Elder & Sons of Glasgow to charter the steamers Zealandia and Australia to the Union Steamship Company. The Alameda will not sail for Australia until Saturday or Sunday, being compelled to wait for the arrival of the through English mail. The Alameda will only stop at Honolulu. The December mails will be carried by the Mariposa. This arrangement will last until next March, when the Union line will place new steamers in the Australian service and carry out the terms of its contract. Postmaster Bonhan has received official advices from Washington that the Australian mails must be placed on board of the Alameda.

STRAY NOTES.

From a correspondent we learn that Granite Creek comprises about 100 houses, restaurants and laundries, the latter being carried on by whites as well as Chinese. At least 500 will winter on the creek this year. A number of men are sawing lumber and getting out firewood. It has been decided to send out a gang of men to survey a sleigh road, which will be ready for traffic this winter. Four miles of the upper creek were staked off a few days ago, in consequence of a rumor that coarse gold was found in the gravel. Good accommodation can now be had at Richardson's new hotel, between Coutlee and Granite Creek. Constable Swan has almost completed his castle.

A 15-TON BELL.

Speaking of a huge bell to be used as a fog signal at Point Conception, on Puget Sound, the San Francisco Chronicle of recent date says: "It is identical in size with the bell made for Trinity Church of this city some years ago, which has heretofore been the largest on the Pacific coast. The new bell weighs 31,000 pounds, and has a clapper of 104 pounds weight. It is claimed that its sound, which is rich and clear in tone, can be distinctly heard at a distance of ten miles. The clapper will be moved automatically by the action of the waves. The first bell ever cast in this city was sent to Messina and hung in the tower of the cathedral."

A FRIENDLY CHAT.

Good morning, Mr. Bean, during my trip through the interior I called at your camp, and partook of one of the best dinners I have had for many a day. Your choppers and mill men were all as busy as bees. They are a fine lot of workers. Where did you pick them up? I will tell you. I called at the B. C. Employment Bureau, and gave them an order, which they filled at once. But the best of the joke is, I asked how much they charged, the answer was, we make no charge for supplying help.

AN IMPROVEMENT.

In addressing the Grand Jury on Monday, Mr. Justice Gray took occasion to refer to the noise kept up during the proceedings of the court, by members of the bar and others. Some time ago THE TIMES called attention to the same thing, but no marked improvement was noticeable. The court on Tuesday was moderately quiet and orderly, due no doubt, to the Judge's observations and to the sawdust sprinkled on the floor outside of the railing. It was possible for reporters and spectators to hear nearly everything that was said.

THE BAIRD MURDER.

The case will be taken up this morning for the prosecution by Messrs. E. T. Johnson, M. Duncan, James Malorey and Andrew Aldin, witnesses in the Baird murder case. The murderer, "Bull dog" Kelly, is now held in Minnesota, on the charge of having murdered a whiskey peddler named Baird, and the above witnesses go east to give evidence to secure his extradition. They go by the Northern Pacific and will be absent a month.

HARD TIMES FOR THE NEW HOME.

B. A. Bladder, of the mean, will make an exhibition of himself, and his light running New Home Honed, on Government street, for some days longer. He will also exhibit at the same time his "dead duck" with its pedigree. Admission free; pay when you leave. The ladies invited.

QUICK FREIGHT.

Rendfelder & Rand's complete assortment of Christmas fruits, arrived via Northern Pacific Railway in thirty-six days.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

LILLOOET ROAD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR:—In your issue of September 15th I informed your readers that I intended to prosecute the writer of the letter, "One Who Knows." I now beg to state that I have succeeded in obtaining the name and at once entered a criminal action on behalf of my son, W. F. Allen, against J. F. Smith, J. P., the Clinton School Teacher. The case was heard on Tuesday, the 17th instant, before Judge Harrison, and the said J. F. Smith was fully committed to take his trial for libel at the next court of assizes, bail being accepted, himself and two sureties.

EDWARD ALLEN.

Grave Creek, Nov. 23.

POLICE COURT.

Thomas Twood, on remand from the 23d inst., charged with the larceny of some personal effects from the wharf. In the absence of evidence the superintendent asked that prisoner be permitted to enter into his own recognizance in the sum of $50 to appear in one week.

John McLeod, out on his own recognizance. Prosecution withdrawn.

Ah Yow and Lee Ying, charged with an infraction of the Restriction Act, by using forged certificates. Mr. T. Bell, for defendants proposed, without prejudice to his clients' case, to pay the sum of $50 each, the tax levied on Chinamen under the Act. His witnesses were in Port Townsend and the cost of bringing them here would be as great as the duty prescribed by the act. Counsel for the Crown, Mr. H. Holmeken, consenting, the case was withdrawn.

Thomas Clayton, on remand charged with larceny and using chloroform, at the Vancouver, on remand.

After hearing the evidence of Fred Leeddin, the barkeeper; Henry Ribbs and Bernard Wrede, proprietor of the house the case was further remanded till next Friday.

S. Clay, charged with an infraction of the by-law regulating saloons; remanded until to-morrow.

The Princess Louise sailed at the usual hour for New Westminster.

The ship Corsica, at Hasting's Mills, is about half loaded.

The Moltke, loading at Hasting's mills for China, will finish next week.

There is no ship at Moodyville at present.

The Mexico sails for S n Francisco next Friday.

The Barbara Boscowitz sailed for Port Essington and way-ports at 4 o'clock this morning.

TOO TRANSPARENT.

So that the editor of the Colonist may not be mistaken THE TIMES has to inform him that his attempt to pose as the champion of Victoria for the purpose of riding to a seat in the local house is too transparent. The electors will remember his actions in the past, when it was considered that they were of such a reprehensible character that the accomplished "flopper" was burned in effigy. The pap-fattening editor cannot make a scape goat of THE TIMES to strengthen his position in this city, let him wish it ever so much, as this journal has the welfare of Victoria as close at heart as has the Colonist, or any other paper.

A COMING EVENT.

At a meeting of the Victoria Musical Society last evening, it was decided to give a benefit concert on Wednesday next for the benefit of Mr. Leech, the gentleman who broke his leg while at work on the Victoria theatre. The programme has not yet been fully decided upon, but it is understood that it will embrace solos, duets and choruses, both vocal and instrumental, including a saxophone quartette. The concert will be under the management of Prof. Pfeiffer, which alone is a guarantee as to what the public may anticipate.

PROMOTIONS.

Mr. Leech who was made acting Enterprise during the collision, and whose arm broken in that accident, was yesterday nominated to the captaincy of the Maude, plying between Victoria and Burrard Inlet. Mr. Wm. Franklin, a deck hand on the Enterprise, has likewise been promoted to be mate in Mr. Leech's place on the Princess Louise.

WHO WILL SHE BE?

Who will be the lady to draw the lucky number at 10 a. m. to-morrow, entitling her to a "Light running New Home sewing machine." Tickets free at Lombard's music store, Government street, until 15 minutes to 10 to-morrow.

A. B. GRAY & Co., Agents.

LONDON EXHIBITION.

Parties sending specimens of ore to Mr. D. Oppenheimer, of this city, for the above exhibition, are requested to give the following particulars, viz.: Location of lodge, name of lodge, width at top and bottom; depth of shaft, nature of casing or country rock; run and dip of the lodge.

—Lewis Morrison's Dramatic Company will open in this city for a season of six nights, on December 1st. The opening play will be "May Blossom."

—Still they are down! It is not the season for mosquitoes, consequently it must be the Colonist's other fly that is interfering with the vibrations of the electric "emanator" wires.

It is rumored that Judge Fournier of the Supreme Court has resigned, and will be succeeded by Sir A. Dorion.

The Scott Act was defeated in St. Catharines, Ont., on the 19th by a majority of 317.

The earnings of the C. P. R. for the week ending the 19th inst., are $27,000, over the corresponding week of last year.

Fell & Co. have received per ship Corsica a large consignment of Wellington coal, which they are now prepared to supply in any quantity to the trade. Orders left at their office, Government street, or at their yard, Store street, will receive prompt attention.

GREAT FALL IN GOODS.

Messrs. J. R. Ferguson & Co.'s Stocktaking Given away this Morning.

This morning the shelving on the south side of Messrs. J. R. Ferguson & Co.'s stationery and fancy goods store, Government street, fell with a great crash, breaking to atoms the handsome, costly show cases the firm had on their counter. The shelving, it appears, was too light for the weight it had to sustain. The store was at once closed, and workmen set to work to replace the shelving and render it more secure and safe. The show cases cannot be replaced for some time, as they will have to be imported. The goods are being sorted out to-day, and the store will be opened to-morrow morning at the usual hour. Irrespective of the loss in the shelving and damage to stock, the show cases alone cost $250.
